WINTER 2026 Q1

FROM THE FAMILY

Dear Epiphany Wine Club Members,

The Holiday lights have come and gone but we have benefitted from some much-needed rain here in the Santa Ynez Valley, so it's prettier than ever and a great time to visit wine country. The grass is indeed greener in our back yard and there are many other reasons to plan a trip. For one, Santa Ynez Valley Restaurant Week runs from January 18th through the 31st. It will showcase a variety of prix fixe menus from $30, $40 and $50 at most of the valley's finest dining venues. Visit www.visitsyv.com for all the details.

We firmly believe that you don't need a special occasion to enjoy a bit of the bubbly, but if you are a stickler we have a date on the calendar for a Bubble Club Social coming up February 7th.

We hope to see you soon for a tasting or to share a bottle here in the garden at Epiphany. Thank you, as always, for your continued support.

Cheers,

The Fess Parker Family

Something Glorious with Ari Bendersky | Substack

2023 Epiphany Wine Co. Grenache Blanc, Santa Barbara County, Calif. ($30)

"At first the wine felt a little soft, almost like apple juice with a squeeze of lemon. But after sitting in the glass for a bit, you taste the salinity. It rounds out, shows texture and becomes a fuller-bodied sexy wine. It's great to drink year round, and even in winter. Lime zest, saline, river stone, ginger, white peach, pear, yummy."

Inspiration is a white Rhône style blend with tropical aromas of white flowers, jasmine and honeydew melon intertwined with hints of vanilla, nectarine and orange marmalade. Tangerine, vanilla and almond flavors flood the palate followed by hints of honeysuckle and lemon cream.

Equal parts Viognier, Vermentino, and Roussanne: Viognier adds aromatic freshness with notes of white flowers, honeydew melon, and apricot; Vermentino contributes clean, crisp acidity; and Roussanne offers richness, honey, and textural opulence.

TASTING NOTES

If you are a Cabernet Sauvignon fan, you would be missing out if you didn't give Mourvèdre a try. This wine is a rustic full-bodied alternative originating from Spain. Black cherry and wild black raspberry are prominent on the nose, followed up by leather, scorched earth and vanilla with a hint of rose petal. Bold black cherry and plum flavors are complemented by wild thyme, cinnamon, vanilla and baking chocolate on the palate.

Pair this Mourvèdre with barbecue, pork shoulder or beef short ribs. For a vegetarian alternative, try a wild rice and shiitake / portobello mushroom based dish.
