We are honored to have been selected as one of Wine and Spirits Magazine’s Top 100 Wineries for the second year in a row. This 2023 honor recognizes a select group of winery “standouts” from diverse regions throughout the world of wine. After vetting thousands of producers in their two-step, blind-tasting process, Wine & Spirits then chooses to recognize a group of 100 top producers.

Congratulations to our fellow Top 100 award recipients! We’re honored to be included with such a fantastic and diverse group of global producers.

Ashley, Dusty Baker, and Tim

WHIRLWIND OF TRAVEL

September and October have been a whirlwind of travel and events in different markets around the country. Tim and I have been in Houston, Santa Fe, Buffalo Gap, San Francisco, and New York in just the last few weeks alone. “Home for the Holidays” is sounding pretty good!

We took part in a HelpCureHD event in Houston, and Tim had the chance to meet one of his all-time baseball heroes, Dusty Baker. It turns out that Dusty is in the wine business too. He has a winery and tasting room in the Sacramento area. It’s always nice when one of your heroes turns out to be such a friendly, engaging person!

HelpCureHD is a non-profit organization that aims to help improve the quality of life for those affected by Huntington’s disease, by contributing financial, emotional and mental health support while supporting research efforts to find a cure.

We will be continuing to support the work of the HelpCureHD organization by donating the proceeds of a special bottle that will be available for purchase at fessparkerwineshop.com at the beginning of November. The wine is a re-release of the 2018 Big Easy and the label is taken from a painting entitled “lifted” by artist Debra Frederick.

Ashley

What a late vintage this looks to be! As we approach the end of September, only Pinot Noir has been brought into the winery for still and sparkling wine. Last year we had picked all of the pinot by this time. Currently it feels more like November with very foggy days and little sunshine. I am hoping for some warmer temperatures and sunny days to help ripen the Rhône varieties. Needless to say, I am a little nervous about what the rest of this vintage has to offer.

In the winery, we finished up bottling and now get to start cleaning prior to the onslaught of grapes and harvesting. This is always a very stressful but rewarding time of the year that I look forward to spending with my team. There is a lot of hard work that goes into the harvest, from picking grapes by hand at 2AM to spending countless hours on the sorting table making sure only the best fruit makes its way to the tank for fermentation. We also get a lot of exercise cleaning the floors, punching down and loading the basket presses. We are usually exhausted by the end of harvest but look forward to the holidays and enjoying some well-deserved time off to enjoy with family and friends.

Fingers crossed: We get some warmth and sunshine to make this harvest spectacular!

I better get back out and join my team on the sorting table. As always, it is a pleasure making wine for your enjoyment, and, from all of us here at Fess Parker: Cheers!
