

The Summer of Discovery

Ocean Explorers

A hosted, five-day marine-science program on South Caicos, in three age-true tracks. A child of any age has their own real adventure – the littlest in the tide pools, the curious in the field, the teenagers under the water – and every evening the family comes back together. By Friday, everyone graduates.

After the first day, the order may shift with weather, marine conditions, and the week's discoveries.

Every enrollment includes

- An Ocean Explorer Passport, stamped across five days of real fieldwork
- A Junior Marine Biologist graduation – certificate and family reception
- A conservation donation in your child's name to the reef
- All instruction, equipment, and hosted supervision through the program day
- Parents welcome – complimentary – at the coral planting, mangrove snorkel, and beach cleanup

Good to know

- Cohorts are intimate and run with a minimum of 3 families each week
- Tracks may be grouped or split by session depending on the week's enrollment
- Siblings are welcomed, each child at their own age-true track, with the taper above
- A parent dive alongside a Voyager is available on request at standard rates
- The program is a separate enrollment that layers onto your stay – it does not change your room rate

Prices are per child for the five-day program and are subject to availability. Program is a hosted group experience; itinerary representative and varies with weather, marine conditions, age, and enrollment.

The stay it layers on
