A Slate of New Projects in the Sunshine State

NATIONAL REPORT—From new-builds to comprehensive renovation projects, the Florida market is white hot. Take a look at what's new in the Sunshine State:

The Dalmar to Open This Summer

In Fort Lauderdale, The Dalmar, a new-build lifestyle hotel owned and developed by DoveHill Capital Management and operated by Wurzak Hotel Group, is set to debut at the end of this summer.

Standing 25-stories tall, The Dalmar will open as part of the Tribute Portfolio, Marriott International's newest collection brand, and will feature high design; five F&B concepts, including the city's first skyline rooftop bar; an infinity pool; fitness center; 14,000 sq. ft. of flexible indoor and outdoor meeting and event space; and Yoga Joint, South Florida's premier yoga studio.
